

Warsaw, Ind., Apr. 8, 1893.
 O. C. Bostyshell,
 Dear Sir:-

I learned that you have been given a concession for the sale of souvenir books and medals at the World's Fair and would be likely to need the service of an intelligent woman as saleslady. I hereby apply for any such position which you may have at your disposal. I am twenty-five years old, well educated, good looking, will be at all times well dressed and a good talker. That is a plain statement of the case but a true one. I have had experience in selling. At present I am teaching in the public schools of this city, which ought to be something of a recommendation.

You will find recommendations on file with Miss Helen Barker of the Columbian Commission, in the Rand-McNally Building. I refer you to them and to B. F. Griffith teacher in the University of Chicago, 5606 Ellis Ave.

and to Miss Victoria Adams teacher in the Lake View High School, Chi.

Any other evidence you may want as to my business ability social standing and character I can give you at any time.

I would give you the very best service and make your interests my own. In return I shall want salary enough to at least pay all expenses and have a slight margin left.

Please write giving me particulars.
Will you furnish admission to the grounds? Write me as to salary, hours etc. I can be with you on or a few days before May 1st and if necessary I can come to Chi. to see you about the place. This would be at the expense of valuable time and money, however, and I would rather make the engagement by correspondence.

My success in previous undertakings makes me think that I could give you perfect satisfaction. I would like a good place even if it is a responsible one.

I am

Very truly yours
(Miss) Eulalia G. Everhard.
